Denmark commissions Rheinmetall to supply ammunition – initial orders under framework agreement worth hundreds of millions of euros

Rheinmetall has been commissioned by Denmark, a member of the EU and NATO, to supply ammunition. The signing of a large-volume framework agreement was marked by a ceremony on 30 January 2026. The agreement has a term of seven years. It covers the supply of several types of ammunition. These include medium-calibre ammunition for infantry fighting vehicles and self-propelled anti-aircraft guns, 120 mm ammunition for main battle tanks and 155 mm ammunition for artillery.

The first orders in the medium-calibre ammunition sector include various types of cartridges in 30 mm x 173 and 35 mm x 228 calibres. The total number is in the high five-digit range, with the order value in the low three-digit million euro range.

In the area of 120 mm tank ammunition, Rheinmetall will supply over 1,000 rounds of kinetic-energy ammunition. The order value is in the high single-digit million euro range.

"We are grateful for the trust Denmark has placed in us for its ammunition supply," said Armin Papperger, CEO of Rheinmetall AG. "Rheinmetall sees this as confirmation of its role as one of the world's leading ammunition manufacturers."
