21. ASSIGNMENT/INVOLVEMENT OF THIRD PARTIES

21.1 The Agreement may not be assigned by any Party without the prior written consent of the other Party; provided, however, that no such consent shall be required if such assignment is to a person that is (a) the acquirer of substantially all of the assets of the assigning Party; or (b) an entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the assigning Party.

21.2 The Supplier shall not have the right to subcontract the performance of its obligations under the Agreement without the prior written consent of Company. If Company gives its consent, the Supplier shall remain jointly and severally responsible and liable for performance of the Agreement for the actions and omissions of a subcontractor.

22. MISCELLANEOUS

22.1 Each Party represents and warrants to the other that the execution and delivery of the Agreement (a) has been duly authorized by all necessary procedures; (b) does not violate any provision of the Party's governing documents or any laws applicable to the Party; or (c) does not result in the breach of any contract by which such Party is bound.

- 22.2 The failure of any Party to enforce any provision of the Agreement shall not be construed as a waiver of such provisions and shall not affect the right of such Party thereafter to enforce each and every provision of the Agreement in accordance with its terms.
- 22.3 If any provision of the Agreement is declared null, invalid or unenforceable by a competent court or authority, the Agreement in whole shall remain in force except for the part declared null, invalid or unenforceable. Each Party shall consult and use its best efforts to agree upon a valid and enforceable provision, which shall be a reasonable substitute for such null, invalid or unenforceable provision in accordance with the original intention and purpose of the Parties.
- 22.4 A Party shall not be liable for any delay or failure to perform its obligations under the Agreement by reason of natural disasters (earth-quakes, landslides, cyclones, floods, fires, lighting, tidal waves, volcanic eruptions and other similar natural events or occurrences), accidents, fires, explosions, war, civil commotions, riots, or acts of government beyond the control of such Party that cannot be overcome by due diligence (“Force Majeure”) to the extent that the performance by such Party is delayed or prevented by the Force Majeure and for the time the Force Majeure event persists, provided, concerning those events or occurrences which are reasonably foreseeable, that these are not caused or contributed to by the negligence of the Supplier or by the Supplier’s breach of the Agreement. The Party affected by Force Majeure shall promptly and in no event later than five (5) calendar days after occurrence of the Force Majeure event, notify in writing the other Party to whom performance is owed, specifying the obligation or part thereof that the Party cannot perform, fully describing the event of Force Majeure, estimating the time during which the Force Majeure will continue and specifying the measures proposed to be adopted by it to remedy or abate the Force Majeure. The Party that is prevented from carrying out its obligations under the Agreement as a result of Force Majeure shall take its best efforts to remedy and abate the effects of the Force Majeure for the other Party to whom performance is owed and resume performance of its obligations as soon as possible after the Force Majeure event ceases. Should the event of Force Majeure not cease within two (2) months from the date of its occurrence, either Party shall be entitled to terminate the Agreement by written notice to the other Party.

23. CHOICE OF LAW AND JURISDICTION

- 23.1 Any matters relating to the execution, validity, interpretation and performance of the Agreement shall be governed by applicable law of Company’s place of incorporation. The UN Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods of 1980 shall not be applicable herein.
- 23.2 The Parties shall attempt, in good faith, to promptly resolve by negotiation any dispute arising out of or relating to the Agreement within ten (10) Business Days from the date on which the aggrieved Party notifies in writing to the other Party of the existence of the dispute. If the dispute has not been solved at such negotiations, the Parties hereby irrevocably agree to submit the dispute to a court of the city where Company has its place of incorporation.
